ONE ROAD

At what age does a path become a road?
At what stage does a tadpole become a toad?
When is a child finally grown up?
And when is a dog not a pup?

Many of these answers we'll never know
But we'll always continue to grow
And Lord, you've guided me every day
And I trust you'll show me your perfect way

We have many roads to follow
many roads to choose
We strive for his promise
We have everything to lose

There's a road that's straight and narrow
Only a few will find its way
And it's headed for the kingdom
Where all Christians soon will stay

Many roads we take are short and winding
Never easily followed, but always binding
And if these roads run into a hole
It takes us longer to reach our goal

-Bryan Hitch

Senator Percy Visits Judson

Judson was both surprised and honored this fall to receive a visit from United States Senator Charles Percy. The Senator made the Judson cafeteria one of his final stops in a heated campaign battle that resulted in his victory over challenger Alex Seith. Accompanied by a press entourage that included an NBC television unit, Percy's November first appearance centered on the importance of voter turnout.

The Senator gained the attention of a sizeable and noisy cafeteria crowd with a shrill "finger-in-mouth" whistle that left his aids open-mouthed and Judson students smiling. He then expressed his concern over the projected 33% voter turnout, encouraged the students to vote, and opened the floor to questions from the student body.

Questions ranged from the inevitable inquiries about the controversial campaign to the Senator's views on government funding for Christian higher education. Senator Percy took time to talk to individuals as well, after which the entire group of students responded with a long round of applause.

Upperclass Talent Show Brings Out the Best

Oogie Boogie and the Zits is composed of Jim Orrick, Mark Powless, Glenn Moore, Phil Lowe and Ed Gelasi.

Bo Hunter and Bosco are a couple of "wild and crazy guys!"

Betty Jean Scott gives Maria Nespa (Ruth Fay) a lesson on bananas and bandanas.

Roommates Heather Hood, Beth Pauley, Liz Johnson and Pam Martin sing "Operator."

Phil Gore, Charlie Walker, Joel Stombres and Tim Winters provide some lively rock 'n roll.

A Marriage Proposal

Two one-act plays by Anton Chekhov were presented by the Judson theatre department September 27-30. The first play entitled "A Marriage Proposal," starred Julane Bower, J. Kramb Cooper and Patrick S. Smolen. It showed in a humorous way how people allow petty concerns block their true feelings.

"Kiss me you fool!"

The Boor

The second play presented in the theatre department's fall production was "The Boor." It utilized an over-bearing character in the person of Dale Slaton who commanded the stage with a great deal of yelling and breaking of furniture. Despite his violent character, the play was very humorous due to his equally independent opposite, played by Crystal Weirich. Miss Weirich's weak-kneed servants only enhanced Dale's boorish qualities. They were played by Jay Miner, Bradley Stephens, Carolyn Maystead, and Dave Bowman. It followed the same basic theme as "A Marriage Proposal."

"You bunch of yellow bellied rugrats—Get out of my sight!"

"You send these twerps after me again and they won't just be ducking behind couches!"

Rumpelstiltskin

Rumpelstiltskin, a play designed for children's theatre, was presented by Kathy Brock as part of an independent study. Cast members included Dale Slaton—king, Carol Doederlein—messenger, Charmel Leindecker—Marion, Jeff Neumann—servant, Brenda Sames—courtier and Brad Stephens—Rumpelstiltskin.

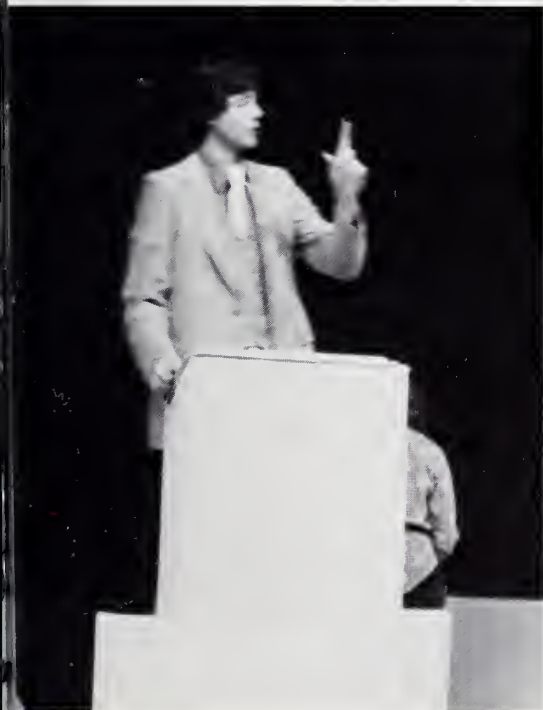

Adaptation

Another independent study project, Adaptation by Elaine May, was directed by Jeff Cooper. Although presented in a humorous light, the play studied man's attempt to "win" at the game of life by finding happiness and security.

Cast members included Dave Reinders, Sue Mills, Ed Gelasi, Carol Heskett and Dave Bowman.

Look Homeward Angel

The play, Look Homeward Angel, by Ketti Frings was presented by the Judson theatre department in January. The production spoke to many about the need for love within families. It also dealt with the maturing process of young people.

Spring Banquet

The theme was "Moonlight, Memories, Aloha," but this year's spring banquet might have been termed "unusual." The dinner was polynesian style, the entertainment was a Christian comedy team named Witty and the queen candidates did not know they were candidates until their names were announced. Needless to say, the evening held some surprise.

Judson The Year in Review

... 1979 was a rough year for Judson as snow and rain ravaged the campus. Elgin received a record snowfall and that, combined with the melting snow caused two floods during the spring. Tyler Creek and the lagoon became one while the basement of Volkman Hall received 2 to 3 inches of water. The point was under water most of spring tri...

... '79 was also a big year for engagements. Director of Student Life, Sally Ackemann became engaged to Bill "Bosco" Boscaljon. Lee Gowin and Eileen Gammell also made the big step. Engagements during the month of May were Rodger Fiorito and Mary Imhoff, Frank White and Pam Martin, Peter Borzeka and Marcia Hardy...

... Two new events during the year that will hopefully become annual was Little Sib Weekend and the Male Beauty Contest.

Little Sib Weekend was held for all the brothers and sisters of Judson students to come and visit the school. Everyone enjoyed a pizza party, a basketball game and a "Friends of Jesus" concert. Ruth Neely was chairman of the event.

Approximately twelve Judson males participated in a beauty contest during winter tri. They appeared in evening dress and sports wear and were judged on poise, looks and personality. Dave Johnson won the contest...

World

... Two major disasters occurred in the world outside of Judson College.

784 followers of the Reverend Jim Jones committed mass suicide in Guyana, South America on November 18.

On May 25, a plane crash near O'Hare airport killed 274 people.

He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.

Stepping Down The Path To Victory

Judson's 1978 soccer season proved to be an exciting one, especially during the homecoming game at which the Eagles clobbered its opponent, Trinity Christian, with a score of 12-0. The final record for Judson was 7-7-2, a considerable improvement over last year.

Coach William Forlow cited Freshman Ken Barger for his contributions to the team's successes. Ken was given honorable mention for NIIC All-Conference and All-State besides being voted to the NCCAA All-District team along with John Van Wynen and Dana Eddy. Dana was also honored as a member of the NIIC All-Conference team.

Coach Stuart Ryder headed the 78-79 cross country team for his third year. Six men were new to the team with five of them being freshmen.

The harriers anticipated a good year and the results were satisfactory. Going through the year they traveled to distant places to run distant miles. In the two NIIC meets, Judson came in third place. At the NAIA district meet Judson produced a seventh place out of thirteen teams.

Freshman Dan Westlund made the trip to Cedarville, Ohio well worth it by qualifying as an All American. The Judson harriers placed eighth in the NCCAA meet and ran their last race with Senior Captain Mike Neisler.

The results of the season were enough to ask the next season to come quickly. It was a season of competition, fellowship and improvement.

The Judson volleyball team almost had to start completely from scratch this year with eight brand-new players and only four returning players.

One more member appeared in the form of a green hand-puppet named Billy. Billy was given the honor of being the 1978 team mascot since his owner, Rhonda Fowler (the only freshman player this year) insisted that he come to every match.

Gale Robison and Deb Walker, both middlers, were elected by their fellow teammates as co-captains for the 1978 season.

Middler Noemi Alvarez was named on the 2nd NIIC All-Conference Team.

The Judson basketball season was one that displayed fine talent. The team was headed by James Szikszai and he welcomed the assistance of Sam Harris as coach for the Junior Varsity squad.

A large crop of talent was available from which the coaches made up two teams. The teams began pulling themselves together as many of the members were new to the squad this year.

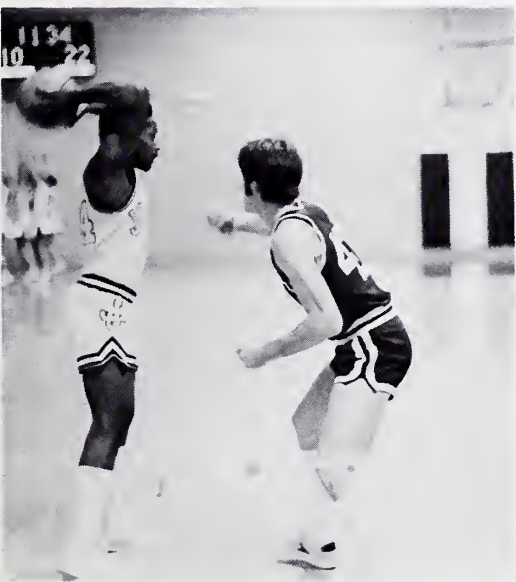

The Varsity team faced a 24-game schedule and defeated six of its opponents. The Judson community enjoyed the representation given by the team as their enduring offense kept on the move.

The Junior Varsity team met its 13-game schedule with four victories. Judson Eagles ended the 78-79 season with high spirits for the years they saw ahead.

The 78-79 Eaglettes met their season as training began in the winding down weeks of the Fall trimester. Coach Doris Floyd took on the opportunity to build a college basketball team for her first time.

Coach Doris Floyd had a schedule of 15 games ahead of her and 11 anxious Eaglettes willing to make a team. Returning players were Glynda Rice, Eileen Gammell, Tammi Tweady, and Karen Heath.

The team brought two victories to the Judson score book and came very close in many other games. The Eaglettes found that they learned a lot and also enjoyed themselves.

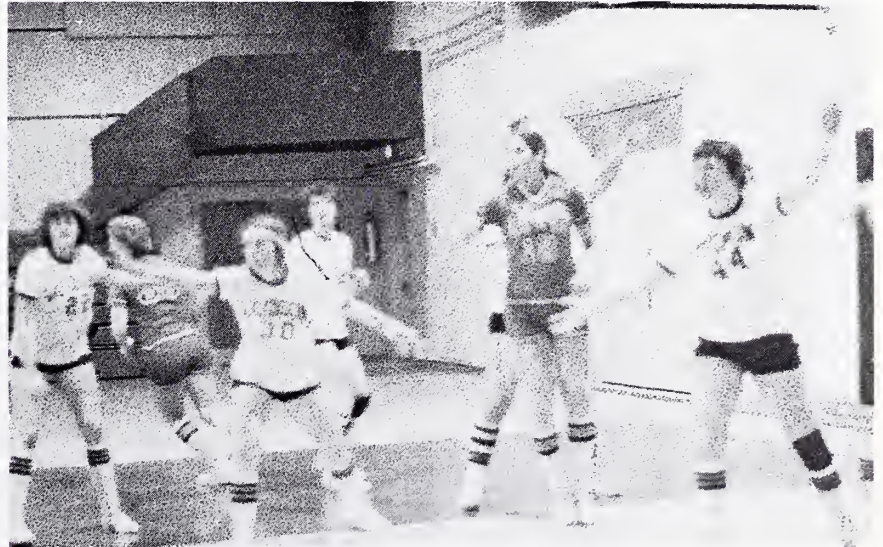

The end of the season brought Karen Heath to a farewell and with a fine contribution on her part to the Judson Eaglettes. Glynda Rice honorably represented Judson as All Conference center for her second consecutive year.

Judson athletes were honored at a banquet May 19 after a day packed with activity in which many alumni returned to compete against Judson's varsity teams in soccer, basketball and baseball. Top awards were given as well as Most Valuable Player (MVP), Most Improved Player (MIP) and Coach's award in each of the eight sports Judson offers.

During the year, two students were named All-Americans. Dan Westlund received the honor in cross country and Jim Orrick received the award in track and field for the high jump. Since Judson does not have track and field, Jim entered the contest as an independent.

Student Senate

The students who represented the 78-79 student body as Student Senate executive officers were, Kraig Kleeman—President, Keith Drew—Vice President, Melanie Baker—Recording Secretary, Dave Bowman—Corresponding Secretary and Ken Atterholt—Treasurer. Frank White served as Spiritual Life Chairman and Brenda Ritter held the position of Social Activities Chairperson. Three people served as chairmen of Academic Life during the year. They were Noemi Alvarez, Ruth Fay and John Kennedy. Non-voting Cabinet officers were Jacqui Larimore—Elections, Mark Powless—Athletics and Wanda Fowler—Publicity. Chairmen of special committees were Ron Colson—Food Service, Melissa Allen—Special Projects and Kevin Noe and Ron Colson—Blood Drive.

The tightly knit group of ambitious workers helped lead the Senate to make many beneficial and practical decisions. As the young team worked hard to be sensitive to the needs of the students, they never neglected to realize each decision was to be kept in tune with Judson's philosophy of raising up young people to be well rounded individuals able to react with the quickly changing world.

Kraig Kleeman expressed his joy in working as a liaison for the students with the administration and felt he had grown exceptionally wiser being in such a position. Executive officers also expressed their enlightenment as they saw the Judson administration work together in a unique manner to be servants of the student body.

The 78-79 Student Senate was very productive and a success in being a representative body for the Judson students.

Good News Club

Mary Ellen Bursack felt the need for another children's ministry besides Saturday Morning Club. So rather than just talking about it, she started one. The Good News Club was formed this year for the children of Judson faculty, administrators and staff. The youngsters get to come on campus and sing songs, play games and learn Bible stories, much like an all-year Bible school. The ministry is spread when they bring their friends who possibly don't know the "Good News" about Jesus.

CENTER RIGHT: B.A.S.I.C. members include Laurel Thomas, Martha Calloway, Tammy Elting and Roy Huffine.

B.A.S.I.C.

B.A.S.I.C. stands for Brothers and Sisters in Christ. It is a national organization with a Southern Baptist affiliation. Car washes, ghouls-o-grams at Halloween and other projects help the club raise money for students who become summer missionaries.

TOP: Advisors Professor Hodges and Dr. Averill watch while Andrea Todd, Ann Vincolisi, Bill SeGraves and Keith Martin enjoy a game about ministering.

Lamplighter

The 78-79 Lamplighter was full of innovations. Every other issue was eight pages long rather than four and there were a lot more pictures. The paper served the campus well with articles about concerts, sports, new people and various activities. It was also a sounding board for many students who wrote letters to the editor. The year ended for the Lamplighter with a successful absolutely nothing—seriousfromcovertocover joke issue.

 BOTTOM LEFT: Business manager for both the Lamplighter and the Lantern was Ken Atterholt.

The Lantern

Others not pictured, who helped with the Lantern were: photographers; Ken Conklin, Ed Gelasi, Doug Wynn, Barb Mitchell, Terry Scott and Marc Jauhainen, layout; Annette Merique, Cathy Dogan, Julie Misner, Ken Conklin, Aubrey Fearson and Deb Firm, Senior section; Chris Huitzacua, Mary Ellen Bursack and Michele Wince, typist; Doreen Caserta, writer; Charmel Leindecker, Advisor Miss Lorolie Brown. Also many thanks to Peter Powell.

F.C.A.

F.C.A., or Fellowship of Christian Athletes was formed in the spring trimester. In order to raise money to send people to a camp, they had a Tarzan Look-Alike contest. Five guys (one from each sport) entered the contest with the winner being decided by the amount of money people put in his "carton." At the end of the week, an original Tarzan movie was shown and the winner was announced. The evening also included a Tarzan yelling contest won by Reuben Mendez and a banana eating contest won by Roy Huffine.

Saturday Morning Club Goes to the Zoo

BELOW: Andrea Todd plays mother for one little boy. Charmel Leindecker walks by in the background.

Saturday Morning Club

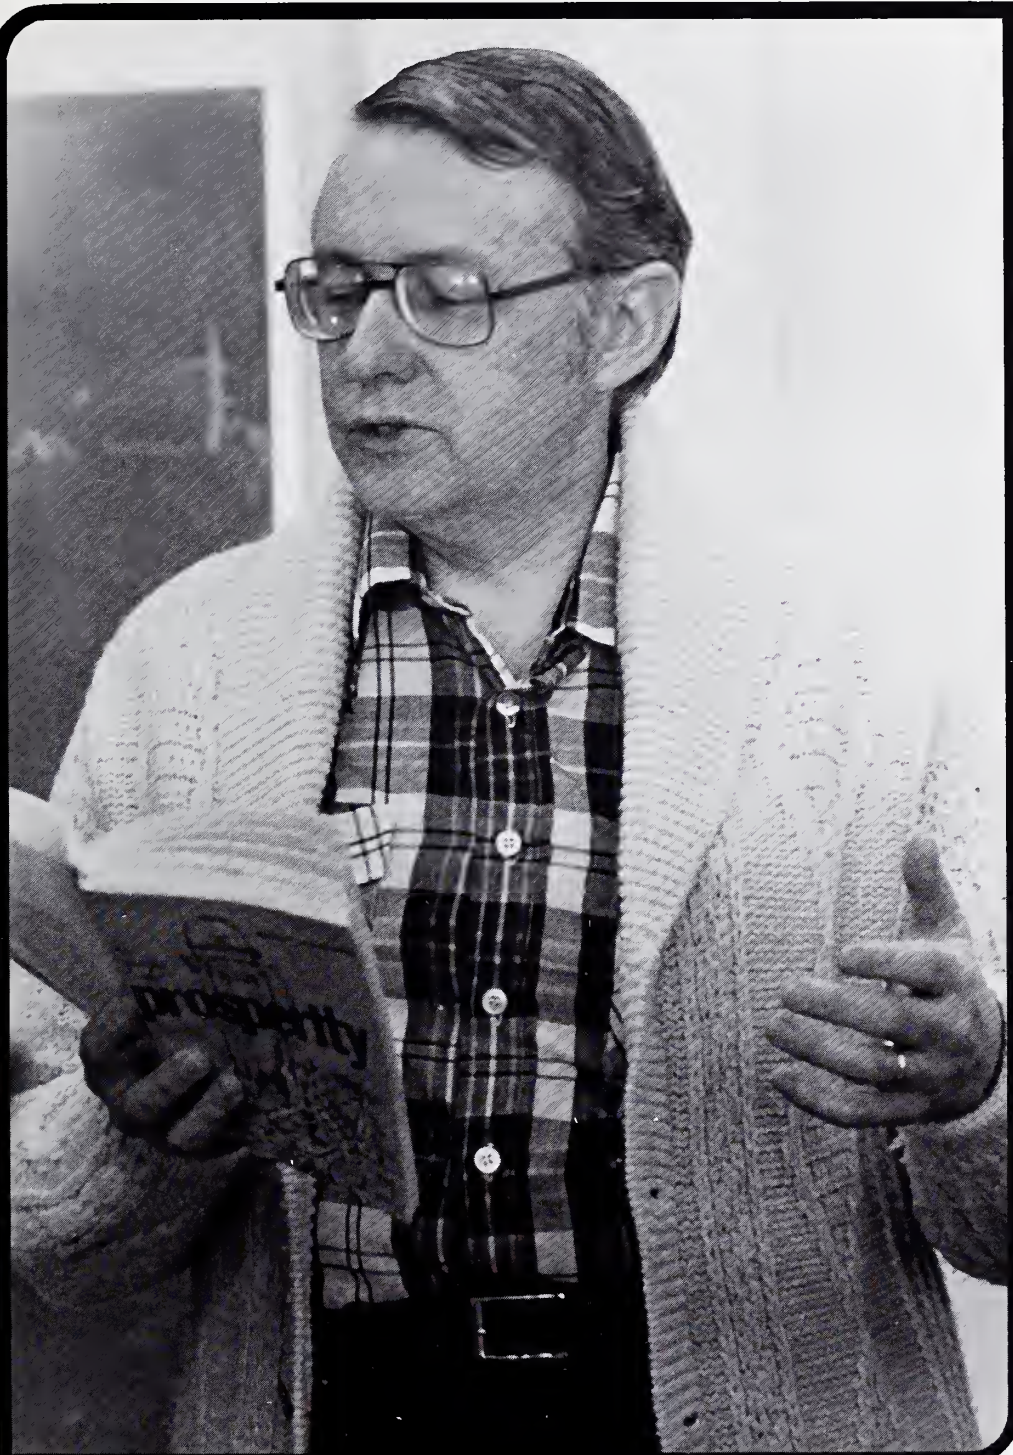

Saturday Morning Club is a reach out organization for children in one of Elgin's low-income high-rises. Each Saturday Morning, Judson students take the kids to a nearby church where they sing songs, do crafts, play games and learn about Jesus' love. On special days they go to the zoo or a park, eat ice cream, go roller skating or come to Judson for a play. Karen Heath is in charge of the club.

ABOVE: Bruno Dodge is one S.M.C. worker. The girl on the left has been a member of the club for so long that she is now a helper for the younger children. She hopes to attend Judson College someday.

Administrators Show Smiles

Judson administrators have good reason to smile. The largest single gift in the school's history was given this year by the Lindner family from Cincinnati, Ohio. The $1.75 million will be used to construct a new dining room and campus commons. Another gift was then received for a new dormitory. This gift of $750,000 came from the Wilson families in Conrad, Iowa.
